Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

ART REJECTION:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, and 3-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Reeley(6,166,627).

-- In considering claims 1, and 3-7, the claimed subject matter that is met by Reeley includes:

1) the first and second triggers that activate an alarm on a nearby motor vehicle, and a second trigger that transmits the location to a recipient at a distant location that communicates with a ground dispatch station is met by the keyboard control unit(16) which controls alarm outputs based on sensed vehicle conditions and thereby causes actuation of a local alarm via speakers on a motor vehicle(see: column 10, lines 22-25), and as well transmission of an alarm signal to a central monitoring facility(see: column 7, lines 2-16);

2) the switch for activating and deactivating the security is met by the remote control transmitter(204, column 11, lines 41-65).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reeley.

-- In considering claim 2, the examiner takes official notice that in the vehicle security system art, use of connectors for attachment of a key is well known. Therefore, since Reeley already desires for the remote control transmitter(204) to be a small hand-held battery power unit, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate a key connector so as to connect the transmitter to a users keys, since this would have helped ensure that the transmitter would not have gotten lost since it would have been connected to a users keys.

Conclusion

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to POPE C. DARYL whose telephone number is 571-272-2959. The examiner can normally be reached on M-TH 9:00-7:30.
